

Climbing magazine cover story by Brad Rassler: Issue # 165, p. 78, Dec.15, 1996 – Feb. 1, 1997

“Running Talus Moving over stone, and life, with the father of clean climbing, Doug Robinson.”

Climbing

TABLE OF CONTENTS FEATURES

- 78 Running Talus Moving over stone, and life, with the father of clean climbing, Doug Robinson.
By Brad Rassler
- 86 What's your problem? The sorry state of American rock climbing.
By Dave Pegg
- 94 The Hidden Mountain Hugely respected. Even more so, neglected. Mount Saint Elias stands alone.
By Bill Sherwonit
- 104 Out of Africa Fred Nicole, Todd Skinner, and friends take on South Africa's baboons and baseball-glove-sized spiders as they explore a new world-class bouldering area.
By Scott Milton
- 114 Gallery

Above: Somewhere under these 10 feet of fresh is the East Ridge of Mount Saint Elias. Photo: John Bauman
Cover: Doug Robinson, mountain lunatic, on Half Dome in 1973. Photo: Edgar Boyles courtesy of Galen Rowell/Mountain Light